Hey brother! 1st Happy Anniversary for you and Rhonda! Sorry that this is a little late. I hope all is well and you are preparing to be a daddy again. Now that the first is under your belt, you get to experience it all over again. I am very happy for the both of you! Can you please send me the two copies of the photo that was drawn of the 'bird' as you call her? (The one you posted on your site). Please – I told the guy that drew it that I could get one and I'd like to have one as well.

Father's Day came and went with no card. I tried to just take it as another day. Oh well. Guess there's nothing I can really do. Still think about her a lot. Kandy sent me another letter and some money recently. I was so excited to get a response from her. The help is always needed too and I am very grateful and thankful. I wrote Mike not too long ago. Haven't heard back from him yet. Check this out – They had to have animal control come in here! They thought my arms were pythons and someone reported them! Ha ha ha! Yeah, I'm still working out and trying to get my head straight. I've been feeling more moody lately. Still on anti-depressants but I think so much that I go through these stages of being happy, sad, mad, grumpy. I just want to let go of some things and think about what is ahead of me, not what's behind me. I'm still plugging away, trying different things in here as the pod rep. I've been hosting spades and dominoes tournaments for the guys, giving a bag of coffee to the winner. They live off coffee in here man. I try to give back, some way to help. It seems to work too. Better than the same old same old, you know? Getting to watch the World Cup too. Oh, and I'm under 200 days left! I try not to look at the calendar much. Keeping a busy schedule in here is so important because it makes the days go by easier, faster. I don't mind working every day. We got a pretty good crew. I plan on getting a phone card in here soon, to call you & Kandy. Kelly is trying to get money on her phone so I can call. Again, Hope all is well! Talk to you soon ~ e/j
